

Steve Ferrara, MD '87 is an Interventional Radiologist and a Captain in the U.S. Navy. He's completed multiple worldwide deployments from Afghanistan to Africa and the Middle East to Indonesia. Most recently he spent a year on Capitol Hill as a National Academy of Sciences Congressional Health Policy Fellow on the Energy and Commerce Committee. He and his team oversaw multiple federal agencies including HHS, FDA, and the NIH. He was a principal author of a $150B piece of healthcare legislation that secures Medicare access for 50 million seniors, ensures that quality becomes an integral part of healthcare delivery, and stabilizes payments for physicians. Following his tenure on the Hill, he was asked to serve as the Navy's Chief Medical Officer and Deputy Chief of Medical Operations. Steve and his wife, Elizabeth — a Pediatric Nephrologist, live just outside of Washington, DC with their children Madeleine (13) and John (10).
